Disclaimer: Blue Cross and Blue Shield Licensees have made reasonable efforts to validate that the list of providers displayed is up to date and accurate. If possible, please verify with the hospital or the physician that they continue to be a member of the network. Neither the Blue Cross and Blue Shield Association nor any of its Licensees shall be liable for any losses, damages, or uncovered charges as a result of using this provider locator website or receives care from a provider listed in this website. A provider listing in the locator website is not an indication that the provider's services are eligible for benefits. Please consult your summary plan description, contact customer service at the number listed on the back of your ID card, or have the provider submit a benefit advisory to determine available benefits.

Important note: Providers in our network may have more than one medical group affiliation, so a provider's network participation can vary depending upon where he/she is providing services. Be sure to confirm the provider's network participation at the location you plan to visit. Also note, not all members have out-of-area coverage. Please call customer service or check your benefit summary plan to verify.

What consumers need to know about surprise or balance billing: Washington and federal law protects enrollees in state-regulated health plans by prohibiting surprise or balance billing if you receive emergency care at any facility or when you're treated at an in-network hospital or ambulatory surgical facility by an out-of-network provider. If you have coverage through a self-funded group health plan, in some limited situations, a provider can ask you to consent to waive your balance billing protections, but you are never required to give your consent. Please contact your employer or health plan for more information. The Balance Billing Protection Act and Federal No Surprises Act apply to all state-regulated health plans and state school employee benefit plans. Self-funded group health plans are not regulated by the state and must notify us if they want to opt-in to state law and offer the protections to their enrollees. See a current list of self-funded group health plans that have selected to follow the Washington Balance Billing Protection Act. Self-funded group health plans that do not follow the Washington law have similar protections under the federal No Surprises Act as they renew on or after January 1, 2022.
