Introduction

A quantity limit is the amount of a specific drug that can be approved for a specific time period. Quantity limits are set to promote safe and appropriate use of medications. The quantity limits in this policy are based on current US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and manufacturer dosing guidelines and current medical best practices. This policy includes information about many different types of drugs and the quantity in which they may be considered medically necessary.

Note: The Introduction section is for your general knowledge and is not to be taken as policy coverage criteria. The rest of the policy uses specific words and concepts familiar to medical professionals. It is intended for providers. A provider can be a person, such as a doctor, nurse, psychologist, or dentist. A provider also can be a place where medical care is given, like a hospital, clinic, or lab. This policy informs them about when a service may be covered.

Policy Coverage Criteria

Drug	Medical Necessity
Target Drugs (See Appendix)	The Target Drug(s) may be considered medically necessary when the dose is within the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) labeled dosing.

Drug	Investigational
As listed	The medications listed in this policy are subject to the product's US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) dosage and administration prescribing information.

Length of Approval
Approval	Criteria
Initial authorization	All drugs listed in the policy may be approved up to 12 months.
Re-authorization criteria	All drugs listed in the policy may be approved up to 12 months as long as the drug-specific coverage criteria are met.

Definition of Terms

Label: Product label refers to the FDA approved prescribing information that is available for every legend drug approved for use in the US. The label includes indications, contraindications, recommended dosing, warnings, precautions, side effects, drug interactions and information on safety in pregnancy and other special populations. The drug's pharmacology, pharmacokinetics, and available dosage forms are also provided. The current format also includes a summary of the pivotal clinical trials that were submitted to FDA in support of the New Drug Application. This prescribing information is included as a package insert with the product and is available on the manufacturer's website.

Quantity limits: A quantity limit is the maximum amount of a medication that may be dispensed during a given calendar period or at one prescription fill without an exception request. Dispensing of a larger quantity may be approved, based on individual case review. A specified larger quantity may be approved when individual-specific circumstances require it, or when published clinical evidence supports a higher dose protocol.

Note: Dispensing quantity limits are not intended to apply in circumstances where logistics may dictate otherwise. These circumstances include but are not limited to member vacation or business travel, disruption of normal prescription supply chains due to adverse weather events or other disasters and members living in remote areas where travel to the nearest pharmacy may sometimes be problematic.

Benefit Application

The drugs in this policy that are managed through the pharmacy benefit.

Evidence Review

Rationale

Quantity limits in this policy are based on the maximum or recommended FDA approved dose as stated in the product label. These limits represent the recommended or upper bound of the dose range that has been shown to balance safety and efficacy as demonstrated by clinical trial data contained in the New Drug Application (NDA) or supplemental application (sNDA) for higher labeled dosing. Quantities in excess of the limits in this policy may be approved based on adequate evidence from published peer reviewed clinical studies.
